We are currently seeking a 2012 Case Review sponsor. Monthly, we host our case review meetings with local law enforcement, mental health and medical professionals, child protective services and our local county attorney's office. This identified interagency team meets monthly to review case information and makes recommendations for follow up services and treatment. Case review ensures that no child abuse cases "slip through the cracks." Burn out rates for professionals working on child abuse cases are 5x higher than that of other law enforcement professionals and child protective service workers. It is imperative that we provide a simple thank you to the professionals that are working on the front lines to combat and support child abuse victims, by providing lunch during these meetings. Our 2011 case review sponsor was Sal's Pizza of Belmont, who provided four pizzas on the second Friday of the month. We are currently seeking lunch donations/gift cards from local businesses/restaurants to provide lunch during our monthly case review.
